Objective

Seeks to identify undervalued securities and create diversified portfolios with high conviction global fixed income insights and favorable risk return parameters

Highlights

- Our investment philosophy combines intensive bottom-up credit research across major sectors of the bond market with top-down macroeconomic insights
- Our sovereign research universe is comprised of more than 100 countries, and portfolios are typically invested in 25 to 35 countries
- Create portfolios that invest in global securities with a focus on Loomis Sayles' best investment ideas across relevant risk factors, including country, currency, curve, sector and specific credit
- Invests across a broad global universe of securities including government and quasi-government and agency securities, corporate credits, and asset-backed securities including mortgages
- Seeks to generate solid long-term risk-adjusted investment performance
- Seeks to manage risk through diversification and continuous monitoring based on fundamental analysis
- Allowable below investment grade allocation: typically over 20%
- Typical allocation to emerging markets debt: generally greater than 25%
- Target tracking error: 3% to 8%, opportunistic approach rather than benchmark relative
- Typical portfolio: more than 150 issues
